Jesus Wants to Use You to Meet the Needs of Others

Luke 9:10-17

Christ gives us His sufficiency to meet the overwhelming needs of people when we yield our insufficiency to Him.

1. People are needy.
 2. We are inadequate to meet the overwhelming needs of those around us.

Jesus uses inadequate people ...

- A. He uses tired, emotionally drained people.
- B. He uses busy people.
- C. He uses people who lack resources.

1. People are needy.
2. We are inadequate to meet the overwhelming needs of those around us.
3. Only Jesus can meet people's needs, but He wants to use us to do so.

Jesus gives us His sufficiency when we yield our insufficiency to Him to use as He pleases ...

- A. Give Jesus what you have, not what you don't have.
- B. Admit your inadequacy and let Jesus use you as He desires.
