

A light blue silhouette of a family of five is shown in the background. An adult figure is running towards the left, holding the hand of a small child. To their right, another child is running, and further right, a girl in a dress and a boy are holding hands and running. The overall scene suggests a sense of movement and family unity.

It's Complicated ...

1. Motherhood has a way of shattering
your illusions ...

A. Illusions about being a Mom.

Phil. 3:14

“I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.”

1. Motherhood has a way of shattering
your illusions ...

A. Illusions about being a Mom.

B. Illusions about yourself.

C. Illusions about what it takes to grow in your relationship with Jesus.

- 1. Motherhood has a way of shattering your illusions.
- 2. Motherhood helps you realize how desperately you need God.
- 3. Motherhood draws your heart to God in unexpected ways.

Gen. 33:10

“And Jacob said, Nay, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, then receive my present at my hand: for therefore I have seen thy face, as though I had seen the face of God, and thou wast pleased with me.”

-
- A faint, light blue silhouette of a family walking together. It includes a man, a woman, and three children of varying heights, all walking in the same direction. The silhouettes are positioned behind the text, creating a subtle background element.
- 1. Motherhood has a way of shattering your illusions.
  - 2. Motherhood helps you realize how desperately you need God.
  - 3. Motherhood draws your heart to God in unexpected ways.
  - 4. Motherhood gives you a greater sense of the depth of God's love for you.

